-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election with traverse of Group II in the reply filed on 6/1/2007 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that it does not pose a serious burden. This is not found persuasive because the apparatus can be used in a procedure other and anastomosis, such as identifying a surgical area.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 6-15, 17, 18, 21-32, and 35-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Buelna et al. 6620177

The applied reference has a common assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by an appropriate showing under 37 CFR 1.131.

Art Unit: 3734

4. Buelna et al. teaches a device for creating a seal in a blood vessel comprising: a low profile shaft assembly (fig. 1), the shaft assembly having an expandable region (50) and a sealing membrane (60) spanning the expandable region, the expandable region being deployable from a first low-profile position to a second expanded position (fig. 1, fig. 3); a clamping member (36); the expandable region in its second expanded position has an elongated hexagonal shape, octagonal shape, oval shape, or a circular shape (col. 6, lines 55-62), the expandable region comprises segments that bow outwardly from the shaft assembly (fig. 9, fig. 10); wherein the bowing segments are formed of a slitted (55) flexible tube; wherein the bowing segments are formed of a super-elastic metal memory; wherein the sealing membrane is reinforced; wherein the shaft assembly further comprises a slide (22); and wherein translation movement of the slide can be remotely actuated (col. 12, lines 43-47).

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 16, 19, 20, 33 and 34 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
